

I am strongly in favor of this proposal and vehemently urge the commission to adopt it. I am a VE and think that these changes are just what amateur radio needs to both continue and grow. I think the new license class and rules for it, although possibly somewhat confusing at first, are of great practical benefit for the potential licensees, and therefore of use to the amateur community as a whole. I also endorse the elimination of morse code testing altogether, and support the other license class consolidations in the proposal.
